EMPLOYMENT AND NON-COMPETITION AGREEMENT

THIS EMPLOYMENT AND NON-COMPETITION AGREEMENT (this "Agreement") is made and entered into this ___ day of April 2002, by and between Stephen F. Sands ("Employee") and Compumedics USA L.P., a Texas limited partnership (the "Company").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, the Employee has served as an executive employee of Neurosoft, Inc. ("Neurosoft"), substantially all of the assets and business (including goodwill) of which are being acquired by the Company;

WHEREAS, in order to protect the Company's investment in the business and assets of Neurosoft, the Company has established as a condition precedent to the Company's acquisition of the assets of Neurosoft that the Company and Employee enter into this Agreement, including the Assignment and Consent set forth in Exhibit B hereto;

WHEREAS, the Employee has developed valuable relations with Neurosoft's customers, suppliers and distributors and has learned and developed confidential and proprietary information relating to Neurosoft's business and operations, which Neurosoft is assigning to the Company;

WHEREAS, the Company will disclose to Employee valuable trade secrets and know-how of the Company and its affiliates and provide training to the Employee relating to the products of the Company and its affiliates;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and the mutual covenants and agreements contained herein, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Employment and Duties. On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth herein, the Company hereby employs the Employee, effective as of the closing date of the acquisition by the Company of the assets of Neurosoft, to serve as the President of the Company's Neuroscan operations. The Employee shall perform the regular duties of his position and as a member of the Company's Senior Management Team, and such other incidental and customary duties as the Company's governing board may from time to time assign. During the term of this Agreement, the Employee shall report directly to the governing board of the general partner of the Company. The Employee shall devote his full working time and best efforts to performing such duties and shall act, at all times, in the Company's best interests. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that the Company requires the Employee to relocate from El Paso, Texas, and the Employee is unwilling to do so, the Company shall be deemed to have terminated the employment of the Employee without Cause (as that term is defined in Section 6(a) below).

2. Compensation. The Employee shall receive compensation as set forth in Exhibit A attached hereto and initialed by the parties for identification.

3. Benefits. The Employee shall be entitled to participate in all standard employee benefit plans offered to full-time management employees of the Company. The Company shall initially establish such plans consistent with the overall policy guidelines that were applied at Neurosoft. The Employee's eligibility for and participation in such plans shall be wholly governed by and subject to the terms and conditions of the official plan documents of each plan, including as regards the Company's rights to modify the same. To the extent permitted by the applicable plan without requiring additional funding by the Company, the Employee shall be given prior service credit for his years at Neurosoft as though he were employed during said period with the Company.

4. Reimbursement of Expenses. The Company shall reimburse the Employee for reasonable business expenses incurred by the Employee in the performance of his duties hereunder in accordance with the Company's standard expense reimbursement policy in force from time to time.

5. Company Policies. The Employee acknowledges and agrees that the Company has and will adopt, and modify, from time to time policies applicable to its employees, and the Employee agrees to comply with all such policies.

6. Term and Termination. The Employee's employment hereunder shall commence on the date referred to in Section 1 above and shall continue until terminated. The Employee's employment shall terminate upon the earliest to occur of (i) the Employee's death; (ii) the Employee's Disability (as hereinafter defined); (iii) the Company's termination of the Employee's employment for Cause (as hereinafter defined); (iv) the Company's termination of the Employee's employment for any reason other than Cause upon ten (10) days' prior written notice to the Employee, and (v) the Employee's voluntary termination of his employment for any reason upon ten (10) days' prior written notice to the Company. Notwithstanding the foregoing, and as additional consideration for Employee's obligations hereunder, including the Assignment and Consent referred to in Section 17, the Company agrees that it will not terminate the Employee's employment without Cause hereunder prior to December 31, 2006 unless either (x) such termination is due to Employee's Death or Disability or (y) the Company pays the Employee the severance consideration identified in Exhibit A.

For purposes of this Agreement:

(a) "Cause" includes (i) the Employee's breach of any material provision of this Agreement; (ii) the Employee's proven fraud or dishonesty, or the Employee's theft or embezzlement of any property of the Company or other deliberate injury to the Company; (iii) the Employee's negligence or incompetence in performing his duties hereunder; (iv) the Employee's refusal to perform or substantial neglect of any duties hereunder; (v) the Employee's violation of any reasonable written directions of the Company's governing board or more senior management and/or (vi) the Employee's commission of a crime involving conversion, misappropriation, larceny, theft, embezzlement or any other felony, regardless of whether such crime involves the Company; provided, however, that in the case of those matters set forth in clauses (i), (iii) or (v) above, the Employee shall first receive written notice of the infraction and a fifteen (15) day opportunity to cure the same; and

(b) "Disability" includes (i) being declared physically or mentally disabled by either a disability insurance carrier which provides disability insurance for the Employee or by a licensed physician who has examined or is treating the Employee, and such disability continues for 120 consecutive days or for a total of 180 days in any 12-month period; or (ii) the Employee being, for any reason, unable (absent any reasonable accommodation as required by law) to maintain full-time active participation in the Company's business -for 120 consecutive days or for a total of 180 days in any 12-month period; provided, however that nothing in this Agreement shall require, result in or permit termination by reason of Disability in violation of applicable law, including, without limitation, the Americans with Disabilities Act.

If Employee's employment is terminated hereunder, the Employee shall be paid hereunder only for the period up to the date of such termination (the "Termination Date"). Unless otherwise agreed in writing, the Employee shall have no right to any compensation for any period after the Termination Date except for compensation that is vested or accrued and not previously paid and/or as provided in the benefit plans referred to in Section 4 above.

The provisions of Sections 7 through 21, inclusive, shall survive the termination of this Agreement or the employment relationship between the Employee and the Company.

7. Non-Competition and Non-Solicitation. The Employee agrees that:

(a) During the term of the Employee's employment with the Company and for a period ending on the later of (i) two years after the Termination Date or (ii) three (3) years from the date hereof (the "Non-Competition Period"), he shall not, directly or indirectly, either for himself or for any other Person (except the Company and its affiliates, referred to collectively herein as the "Business"), "participate" in any business or enterprise which competes in markets in which the Business competes and which develops, licenses, manufactures, sells, distributes or commercializes any products which are similar to and competitive with the products developed or being developed, manufactured, sold or distributed by the Company (or by any affiliate of the Company, but in the latter case, only if the Employee was directly involved in the development, manufacture, sale or distribution, or received confidential information related to the same) at any time within one (1) year prior to the Termination Date. For purposes hereof, the term "participate" includes owning any direct or indirect interest in, or providing any services to, any business or enterprise, whether as an officer, director, employee, shareholder, partner, sole proprietor, member, agent, representative, independent contractor, consultant, distributor, creditor or otherwise; provided, however, that the term "participate" shall not include ownership of less than 1 % of the stock of a publicly-held corporation whose stock is traded on a national securities exchange or in the over-the counter market, so long as the Employee has no active participation in the business of such corporation.

(b) During the Non-Competition Period, the Employee shall not directly or indirectly (except on behalf of the Business) (i) induce or attempt to induce any employee of the Business to leave the employ of the Business, or in any way interfere with the relationship between the Business and any employee thereof; or (ii) induce or attempt to induce any customer, supplier, licensee, licensor, distributor or other business relation of the Business to cease doing business with, or reduce its volume of business with, the Business or in any way interfere with the relationship between any such customer, supplier, licensee, distributor or business relation and the Business (including, without limitation, making any negative statements or communications about the Business).

8. Reasonable Restrictions. The Employee acknowledges that the restrictions set forth in Section 7 hereof are reasonable in scope and essential to the preservation of the Business' operations and proprietary interests and that the enforcement of such sections will not in any manner preclude the Employee from becoming gainfully employed and continuing to provide a standard of living for himself and his family of the sort to which he and they have become accustomed.

9. Revision; Reform. If, at the time of enforcement of this Agreement, a court shall hold that the duration, scope, geographic area or other restrictions stated herein are unreasonable under circumstances then existing, the parties agree that the maximum duration, scope, geographic area or other restrictions deemed reasonable under such circumstances by such court shall be substituted for the stated duration, scope, geographic area or other restrictions. If the court shall hold that such a provision is wholly unenforceable, then such provision shall be severed from this Agreement, and the Agreement shall be enforced as if such provision never existed.

10. Intellectual Property. The Employee covenants and agrees that he will promptly and completely inform and disclose to the Company all inventions, discoveries, creations, ideas, business methods, designs, improvements, patents, brands, names, trademarks, service marks, works of authorship and other copyrightable materials, and copyrights ("Intellectual Property") that the Employee may conceive, discover, make or acquire during his employment with the Company (and during the term of any consulting relationship if the employment relationship terminates and the Employee becomes a consultant to the Company) that pertain or relate to the past, present or intended business of the Company or its affiliates or to any experimental or preliminary work then being carried on by the Company or its affiliates, including those conceived, discovered, made or acquired by the Employee alone or with others; those conceived, discovered, made or acquired during or after regular working hours; and those conceived, discovered, made or acquired on or off the Company's premises. All such Intellectual Property is and shall be the exclusive property of the Company, and the Employee hereby assigns all right, title and interest in the same, including all related patents, patent applications, marks and copyrights, to the Company, without retention of any royalty or other right or interest. To the greatest extent provided by law, the Employee agrees that all such Intellectual Property constitutes "works made for hire" and is the exclusive property of the Company. The Employee shall assist the Company in obtaining U.S. or foreign patents, trade and service mark registrations, and/or copyright registrations on all such Intellectual Property as requested by the Company.

On demand from the Company and, without demand in the event the Employee's employment with the Company terminates for any reason whatsoever, the Employee covenants to promptly surrender and deliver to the Company all records, materials, equipment, drawings, tapes, disks and data of any nature and on any medium constituting, containing, summarizing or describing any information or other property of any type that belongs to the Company or that was entrusted to the Company by any third party.

Employee shall to the best of his best endeavors and in compliance with the confidentiality requirements (herein) safeguard Company information and property under his control, whether in hard copy, soft copy, or other form, and whether on or off the Company's premises including but not limited to the Employee's residence or other location. Such safeguarding to include backing up, filing, or storage of said information and property where the backups, files, and/or storage are on company premises. Employee acknowledges that the information remains the property of the Company regardless of location or form."

11. Confidentiality. The Employee hereby acknowledges that the Company and its affiliates recognize and have designated that their Intellectual Property, work product, customer information and other business information are proprietary and trade secret information, and that the same is not generally available to the public. The Company hereby agrees that during the term of Employee's employment it will train Employee with respect to the Company's products and methods and will, as reasonably required or appropriate for his services for the Company, disclose to the Employee the relevant trade secrets and other confidential and proprietary information of the Company and its affiliates. The Employee agrees and covenants to take all steps necessary to protect the trade secrets and proprietary information of the Company and its affiliates. The Employee further acknowledges that, as a result of his special access to the records, computers, and data of the Company and its affiliates etc., he will have access to such trade secret and proprietary information of the Company and its affiliates (and to trade secret and proprietary information of third parties) in forms and on media where such information is not marked "confidential", "proprietary" or the like. The provisions of this Section 11 apply to all proprietary and trade secret information of the Company and its affiliates and of third parties whether or not so marked.

During and after the term of Employee's employment with the Company, Employee shall not disclose to any other person any confidential or proprietary data of the Company, its affiliates or third parties, except that during his employment with the Company, the Employee may make such disclosures as are consistent with accomplishing the business of the Company in a manner so as to protect the confidentiality of the confidential and proprietary information of the Company, its affiliates or third parties.

During and after term of Employee's employment with the Company, the Employee shall not use for any purpose other than performing duties for the Company any information owned by the Company or its affiliates or considered by the Company to be confidential or proprietary information of the Company, its affiliates or a third party.

Without limiting the foregoing provisions of this Section 11, the restrictions in this Section 11 apply, without limitation, to knowledge, data, and other information whether or not the same might be entitled to protection as a "trade secret" under the law in the absence of this Agreement. It is the parties' intention for the Employee to adhere to the strictest standard of confidentiality as regards any information of the Company, its affiliates, its customers or any other third parties with which the Company deals.

12. Third-Party Property. Employee agrees that he will use diligence not to bring onto the Company's premises or use in connection with any work for the Company any information or other property in which a third party has rights; unless specific prior arrangements satisfactory to the Company have been made with such third party.

13. Remedies. The Employee recognizes and agrees that in the event of a breach of Section 7, Section 10 or Section 11 of this Agreement, money damages would be inadequate and the Company would have no adequate remedy at law. Accordingly, the Employee agrees that the Company shall have the right, in addition to any other rights and remedies existing in its favor, to enforce its rights and the Employee's obligations under this Agreement not only by an action or actions for damages, but also by an action or actions for specific performance, injunctive and/or equitable relief, in either case without proof of actual damages and without posting a bond or other security (or, if such a bond be required by law, it is agreed that the amount thereof to be posted by the Company shall not exceed $10,000), in order to enforce or prevent any violations (whether anticipatory, continuing or future) of this Agreement (including, without limitation, the extension of the Non-Competition Period by a period equal to (i) the length of the violation of this Agreement plus (ii) the length of any court proceedings necessary to stop such violation).

14. Attorneys' Fees. The prevailing party in any action to enforce this Agreement shall be entitled to recover, in addition to all other relief available at law or in equity, all reasonable attorneys' fees incurred by such party in such action.

15. Assignment: Binding Agreement. This Agreement is for the personal services of the Employee, who may not assign or delegate any of its rights or obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of the Company. The Company may assign this Agreement and/or delegate any or all of its duties hereunder to any person who becomes a successor in interest to business or assets with respect to which the Employee performs services; provided, however, no such assignment shall release the Company from its obligations hereunder. Subject to the foregoing, this Agreement shall be binding upon the parties hereto and their respective heirs, administrators, legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

16. Waiver. No deny or omission in the exercise of any right, power or remedy hereunder shall impair any such right, power or remedy or be construed to be a waiver or any default or any acquiescence therein.

17. Entire Agreement: Amendment. This Agreement, including Exhibit A and the Assignment and Consent attached hereto as Exhibit B contains the entire agreement of the parties with regard to the subject matter hereof, and may not be amended except by an agreement in writing signed by the parties hereto.

18. Notices and Other Communications. All notices or other communications hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given if delivered personally (including delivery by courier service), transmitted by telegram or mailed by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, as follows:
